The background of the slide is a dark stage with vertical wood paneling. Three spotlights are positioned at the top, casting a warm glow on the wall behind the text. The floor is also made of wood, with planks running horizontally.

Teachers of Promise

April 7, 2016

Purpose

Teachers of Promise

Promise to be an advocate for children and education

Promise to be a teacher-leader

Promise to collaborate and share

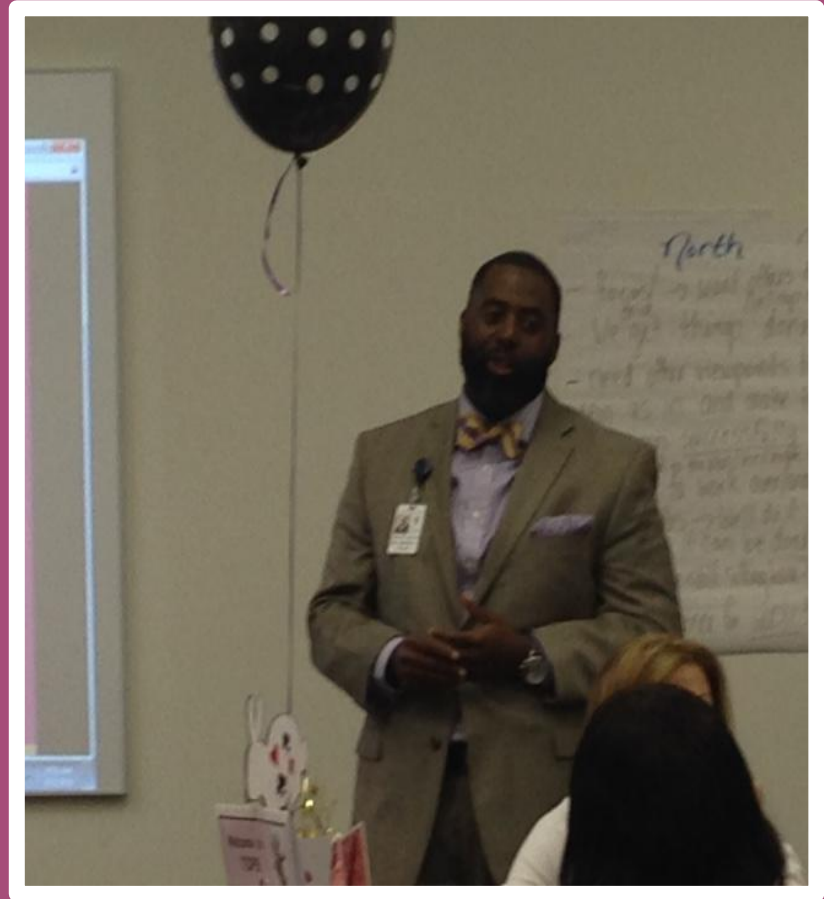

Promise to continue to grow, learn, and maintain a growth mindset

Promise to be Transformative, Objective, Purposeful, and Service-Oriented

Joyful Interruption

I learned...

that I am valued as a colleague and teacher!

that there is a whole network of people outside of my school that I can connect with and continue to grow personally and professionally.

that leadership and management are not synonymous and that leadership style can greatly impact the productivity of others.

I learned...

all leaders have different strengths but the strengths of each person makes the group stronger.

Team Building with “Spud”nik

April 7, 2016

I wonder...

if we can include administrators in the collaboration

if building teacher leaders will improve the climate in schools over the long-term and, in turn, improve the education system in America.

why more meetings aren't as interesting as today's activities.

I wonder...

why didn't we have
this earlier???

The background of the slide is a dark wood-paneled wall with a wooden floor. Four spotlights are positioned at the top, casting a warm glow on the wall. The text is centered and written in a clean, white, sans-serif font.

Compass Point: What's Your Leadership Style

April 7, 2016

I wish...

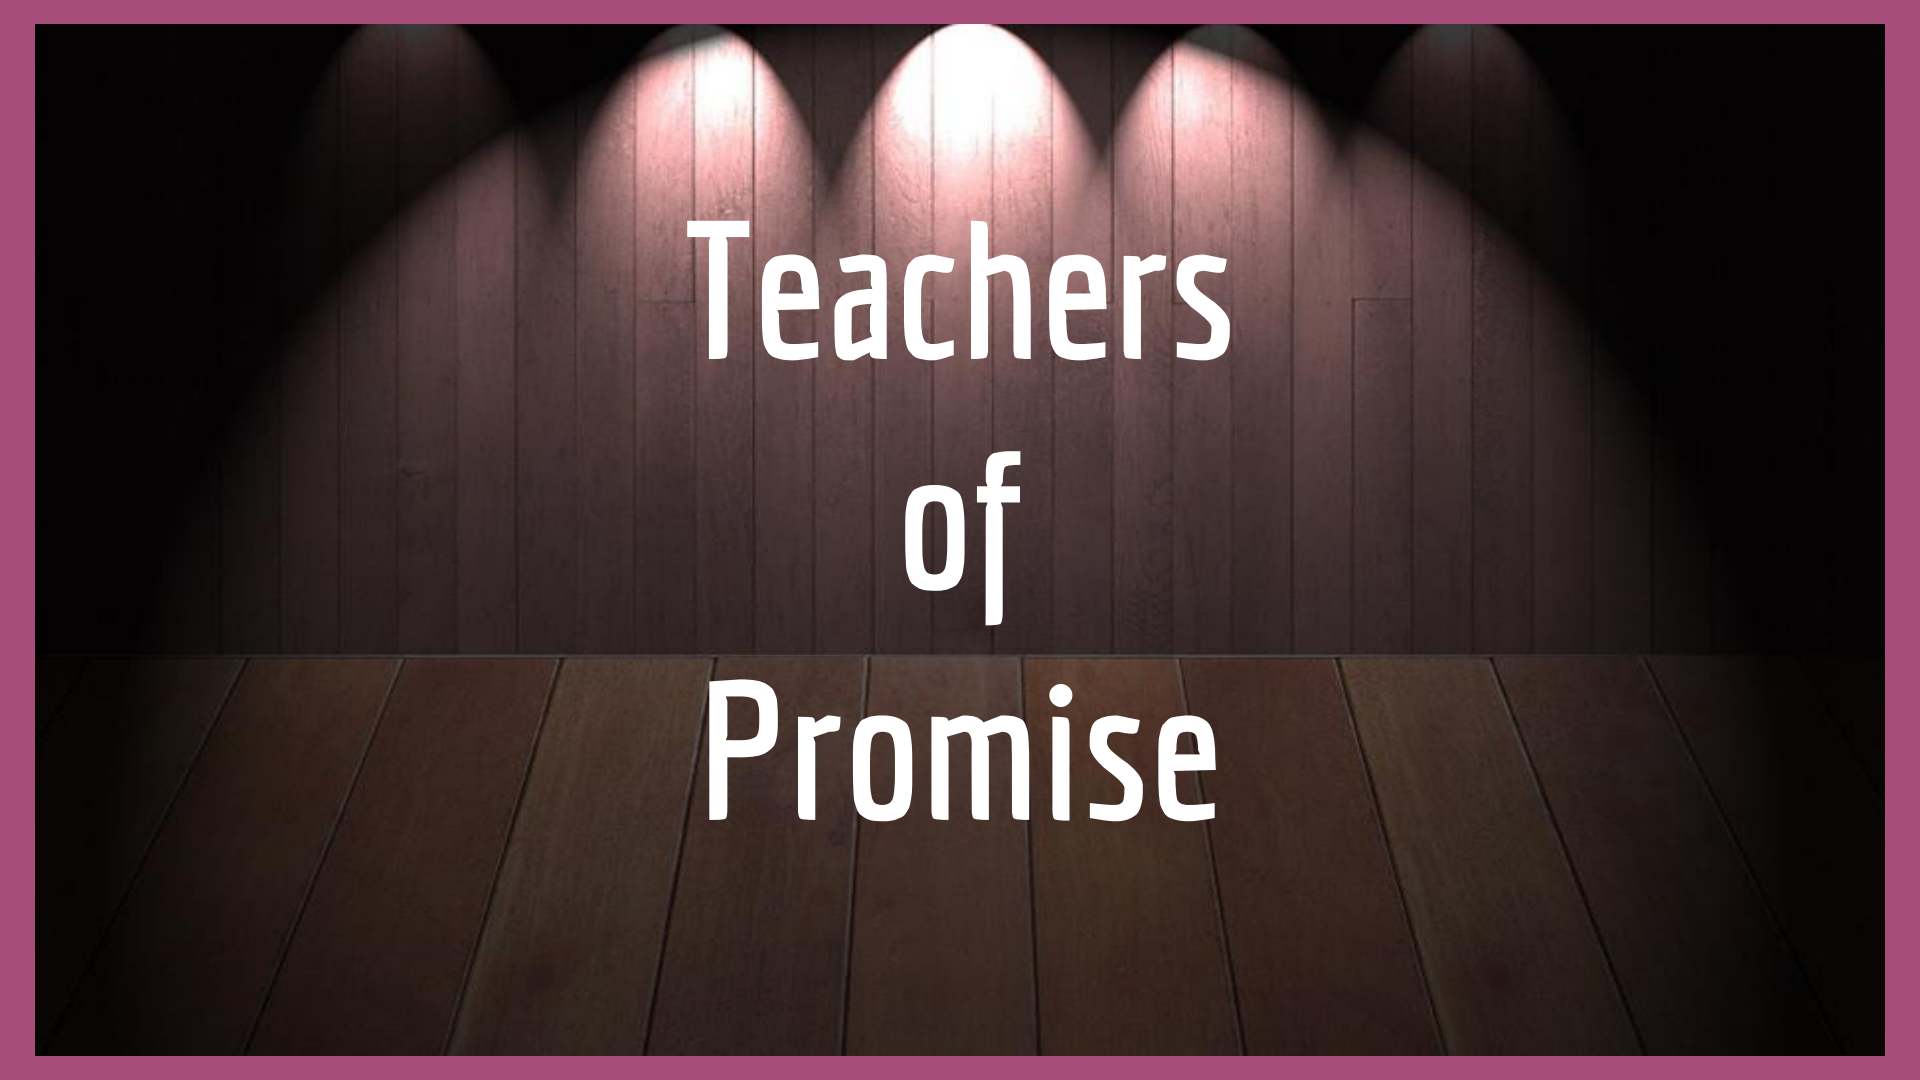

administrators realized that teachers want a more collaborative and innovative environment.

we had more time to develop relationships like this... time that is “facilitated” not “managed.”

this had started years ago!

I wish...

to do wonderful things to help my students, fellow colleagues, parents, and district!

Teachers
of Promise