We can see that Forest Lake Elementary had a week packed with NASA nights and book fairs open through the evening to allow parents to select books with their children.